There is a plain reduction of all the advalored duty on raw wools which is equivalent to a reduction of a trifle over three alent to a reduction of a trifle over three cents per pound on Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania wools. But on woolen goods the reduction, if any, is not so plain. A little duty is taken off in one place to be replaced on the ad valorem. Again one class is reduced and another class is increased; and after giving the matter a very critical examination 1 am unable to say what the reduction is on woolen goods. In conversation with Mr. John L. Hayes, last winter, he said "it was a very great re-

I am aware that much has been said on this subject, but the half is not told. That there has been an unjust discrimination in favor of manufactured goods as against the wool-growers, no one at all familiar with this subject will deny. Just what the result will be no one can tell. Some of our sult will be no one can tell. Some of our best wool-growers in Ohio say they are going to reduce their flocks. This conclusion, I think, is quite general. I advise differently keep up your flocks, and unite and demand of Congress that protection we are so justly entitled to. No one makes fewer requests than the farmer and stockraiser, and this is probably one reason why Congress does not heed our petitions. Senator Sherman, in a published interview at Columbus, Ohio, April 6th, says the wool-growers were very badly treated. sult will be no one can tell. Some of our the wool growers were very badly treated, and one reason was they did not make their wants known until it was too late, or their wants known until it was too late, or if other wool-growing States would have done as Obio, there would have been no trouble. I approve of a thorough national organization." Ex-Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, says "the wool growers were badly treated, etc.," and now what shall we do? Quietly submit to the demands of a monopoly of six New England States, for it is nothing else, eT will we claim a protection which amounts to something? Failing in this let us demand that New England don't put her figures on her wares and we be compelled to buy. I note that not one single Senator claimed that our demand was unjust or higher than it

Why They are Piling on Taxes.

Parkerburg State Journal.

A conversation was overheard on Market street not long since between two farmers, one of whom was complaining bitterly at having to make a second and more extensive list of his property for baxation, and desired to know why the taxes were so continually increasing, and that under the repeated promises of the Democracy to reduce taxation. His friend replied it was in consequence of the Radicals having granted back pay, and increased pensions to the Union soldiers. "Is that so—where did you get your information?" "Well, I just this minute came out of the Scatinet office!"

We do not find fault, reproach or condemn the practice of any regular physicians—this is not our mission—but we do claim if he were to add Perusa to his prescriptions as directed in our book on the "like of Life" (and furnished gratuitonsly by all druggists), he would cure all his patients. "Ownso, Potter County, Pa., Dr. Harran—Dear Sr. The small ulcers are all healed, and the two large ones are not more than half as large as they were. I am feeling quite well. The people say your Perusa and Honalis are doing a mirsele. I'war thing so good?" is the query of a post somewhat confused; if he has a cold, the only good thing we know of is a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Third, will lowering the tariff on wools lower the price of woolan conductive to the proportion of the properties of the proportion.
